(Special to The Herald.)

Lincoln, Neb., July 21.-Three prominent Illinois Democrats who spent the day with Mr. Bryan told him they thought would carry Illinois.

The party included General Orendorff, late candidate for the Demorcratic nomination for governor; J. W. Yantis, nominee for state board of equalization, and H. C. Clendinnin, editor of the Spring-

McKinley carried the state by 142,000 four years ago, and in 1898 it was lost to the Republicans by 42,000. In 1892 Cleveland carries it by 27,000, and all three gentlemen agree that the outlook now is much better than then.

Mr. Bryan, they say, has risen in the estimation of Illinois citizens by reason of his stand on the money question, and has proved beyond doubt that he is a sincere statesman and not a "trimmer."

GREAT BRITAIN AND AMERICA JOINED

New York, July 21 .- A dispatch to the Journal and Advertiser from London says: Active diplomatic negotiations are passing between the powers regarding a coalition against China, England and the United States are arranging a close accord on the question of partition. These two governments probably will declare openly against it in a few days. Numerous dispatches are passing between Hay and Salisbury with the idea of the two countries forming identical policies.

Incidentally a curious sidelight is cast on English diplomacy in this matter. China's attack on Siberia, it is claimed in British diplomatic circles, has caused a sudden change in the attitude of Russia. which is now making overtures to the powers of a most cordial and pedition to Pekin. conciliatory nature.

It was Russia, these diplomats say, which blocked the scheme of having the Japanese take the lead in the march Pekin with a full force, as pro England. While most of the European powers approved it. Russia refused her consent to the plan, it is asserted, and it had to be abandoned. Now Russia is scared and expresses er entire willingness to join in any concert and play her part fairly and

SADNESS OVER DELAY OF ALLIES

Washington, July 21.-Admiral Remey's dispatch, which conveyed the disagreeable news that the international column would not begin its advance upon Pekin before the middle of August, was received here with con-sternation, in view of Mr. Conger's advice of the desperate position the legationers were in on the 18th.

The delay is incomprehensible to the officials here. It is known that an army already formidable in numbers and of veteran soldiers is at Tien Tsin and Taku, and with a courageous leader, it was expected that this would push on at once, cutting loose from its base, if need be, and forcing its way to Pekin, leaving the reinforcements now streaming toward Taku from every quarter of the globe to re-establish.

a week from this time. It has been suggested here that General Chaffee will, if need be, leave the other comdepartment this morning through Minwill, if need be, leave the other commanders to their devices and lead the way to Pekin himself. His brother officers in the war department say that

England Averse to Making a Dash to (Copyright, 1900, by the Associated Press.) London, July 21 .- The request of Secretary of State Hay to the powers to make an immediate forward movement upon Pekin is not likely to meet with any success in England. Lord Salisbury is just as eager as the American secretary of state to adopt such a step but he is practically convinced that it will not be possible until September, owing to local conditions, and the allied lack of equipment. Beyond a courte-ous reply that England is willing to co-operate in any movement that the commanders on the spot moy deem adcommanders on the spot moy deem advisable, nothing is likely to come of the latest American effort to reach the Chinese captial, for all of the advices received here indicate that a dash toward Pekin in the immediate future would be military suicide.

The government's attitude may be taken as a philosophic determination to grin and bear it hopping for the best.

Until that is accomplished every opin-on worth repeating is suspended, not only regarding the future of China, but also as to the nature and severity of the retribution to be exacted. Meanwhile, English journals which are bound to express opinions of some sort, and a majority of the English people, who are unable to restrain their feelings in the face of this war, de-clare that in so great an emergency no risk is too great and couple with this a sentiment of genuine apprecia-tion of American efforts to alleviate the situation, and espeially as regards sending W.
